Exploration update Killaloe JV and Symons Hill Projects

Matsa wishes to advise that RC precollars for the diamond drill programme at Symons Hill are nearing completion. Accordingly, Matsa now considers it prudent to reschedule commencement of drilling at HWG prospect at Killaloe (MAT: 80%, CUL: 20%) and has redeployed the diamond drill team 140km east to Symons Hill which began drilling this morning (Monday 23rd June 2014).

This will allow all facets of the HWG prospect at Killaloe to be examined and interpreted in detail, thereby enabling design of an effective high quality drilling programme to best evaluate recent successful drilling results.

This window of opportunity will provide for completion of new MLTEM surveys, full assessment of past high quality exploration data and lodgement of a POW providing for an extended diamond drilling campaign at Killaloe.

Drilling at HWG prospect at Killaloe will recommence as soon as possible, and is anticipated before the completion of drilling at Symons Hill thus providing for two high quality drilling programmes on separate projects simultaneously.

This rescheduling will also allow Matsa to optimise deployment of its resources in order to advance both projects in a timely and effective manner.
